

Last chance to see the Migration in the Mara

The wildebeest migration is now firmly settled on the northwestern plains of the Mara, some are grazing at Wogakuria while the mega herd is stationed in the Bologonja region. The majority of the river crossings into the Mara have taken place, however, this year’s constant weather changes have affected the Migration routing, resulting in the herds moving back and forward across the river.

One of the last months to see the migration in the Mara is October. From then onwards the herds tend to start their journey back to the Serengeti, however, this year is proving anything but predictable!

Below is a selection of safari and beach holidays in October you can choose from and perhaps witness this incredible spectacle!

Adventure Camping Safari, Kenya

6-night safari Selenkay & Ol Kinyei from £1550 pp

A fabulous adventure camping safari in private conservancies plus a full day in Amboseli National Park and the Masai Mara

Full board plus game drives in open sided 4x4 safari vehicles
Flight between Nairobi and Masai Mara. Includes Masai village visit, escorted nature walks and night game drives

Price valid 5 September – 25 October 2011

Departs UK daily

3☼ Thorn Tree Safari & 3☼ Travellers Beach, Kenya

8 nights from £1800 pp

A popular short safari including the world-renowned game reserve, the Masai Mara combined with a great value family beach hotel on the north coast of Mombasa

Full board plus game drives on safari, half board in Mombasa

Price valid 1 – 29 October 2011

Departs UK on Tuesday and Saturday

5☼ Cheetah Safari, Kenya

7 nights from £2120 pp

A traditional 7-night safari visiting Samburu, the Rift Valley Lakes and the Masai Mara.

Full board plus game drives

Free hippo pool breakfast at Ashnil Mara Camp

Price valid: 2 – 30 October 2011

Departs UK on Tuesday, Friday, Sunday

5☼ Cheetah Safari, Kenya & 4☼ Ocean Paradise, Zanzibar

11 nights from £2575 pp

A superb traditional safari combined with a unique and charming resort hotel in Zanzibar

Full board plus game drives on safari, half board in Zanzibar

Free hippo pool breakfast at Ashnil Mara Camp

Price valid 2 – 30 October 2011

Departs UK on Tuesday, Friday and Sunday